Introduction to Restorative Practices

Benefits
- A stronger community
- Positive relationships
- Improved workplace or organizational climate
- Tools for classroom management and enhancing learning
- Alternatives to suspension/expulsion

Focus
- Underlying concepts of restorative practices
- Effective strategies for:
  - managing behavior
  - teaching people to take responsibility for their actions
  - engaging people in their own issues
- Interactive experiences to enhance your understanding

With this event, you will:
- Gain practical knowledge and skills you can use immediately.
- Strengthen your ability to help others handle their own issues and achieve their own goals.
- Interact with other knowledgeable professionals to find realistic solutions to the issues you face every day.
- Receive helpful take-along handouts plus, the instructional book: The Restorative Practices Handbook.

Date: September 17, 2014
Time: 8:30-4:30
Location:
MSD Decatur
Indianapolis, IN
(The actual location of the conference will be given upon registration)
Cost: $150
Morning refreshments and lunch are provided
Space is Limited!!!
To Register:
https://indianauniv.ungerboeck.com/ prod/emc00/register.aspx?
OrgCode=10&EvtID=6364&AppCode=REG

IIDC-CELL
1905 North Range
Bloomington, IN 47408
Contact Deborah Reichmann
Phone: 812-855-6508
E-mail: dreichma@indiana.edu.