

Outcome: Families will know their rights and be able to communicate their children’s need	So that: they are able to effectively advocate for their child to receive the desired services to meet all developmental needs during their time in the First Steps program.
Explanation of Data:            Quarterly Data : July-September 2014            Know their rights – indicator 99%  Cluster H data results 96.4%            Effectively communicate their children’s needs – indicator 99%  Cluster J data results – 93.2%            Help their children develop and learn  Cluster H data results: 94.6% We hypothesize that while families receive their rights multiple times throughout their time in First Steps; a disconnect continues to be evident from the SC presentation to family on how to exercise their parent rights during the IFSP process and communicate their desires/needs in order to secure desired outcomes for their child. Families are not sure how to link the written/verbal rights to actions for desired IFSP outcomes.	Strategies(Who is responsible/timeline/evaluation):            Adapt referral/intake clinical note to address how parent rights were presented at intake to family. Explore SC training on verbal presentation of parent rights and how they impact family’s ability to advocate for their child by March 31, 2015. Develop parent reference sheet to be given at IFSP on parent rights and their roles/responsibilities in the family outcome process. Explore training for SC on how information can be presented to families more effectively by March 31, 2015. Provide developmental resources to families during IFSP development to ensure families know milestones and can
