Asking Someone to Play

At recess and in my class there are lots of kids I can play with.

When I want to play with someone I need to do these things: First I look at the person’s face.

Next I say their name to get their attention.

I wait until that person looks back at me.

Then I say, "Can I play with you?" or "Will you play with me?"

If the person says "yes", then I get to play with that person.

If the person says "no", it's Ok. I can find another person to ask.

It makes me feel happy that I know how to ask someone to play with me.
