Stay Safe

People like to be safe.
Being safe means that we try not to get hurt.
There are a lot of ways to be safe.
Following rules and making good choices helps us to stay safe.
Parents and teachers want kids to stay safe at home and at school.

For example, it is a good idea to walk in the hallways.
When someone runs in the hallways, they can accidentally hurt someone or fall and get hurt.
Running in the hallways is against the school rules.
Walking in the hallways is a good choice and helps us to stay safe.

It is also a good idea to look both ways before crossing a street. It is safer to look both ways, because people can make sure there are no cars coming.
Staying safe is a good idea.
If someone you know yells, "stop," it is a good idea to listen and look. They may see something that is not safe.

When people are upset, they may feel like running away.
It is not a good idea to run away at school or at home, because it is not safe. Someone could get hurt.
It is a good idea to go to a safe or quiet place to calm down.
Running away is not safe and is against the school rules.
Parents and teachers want kids to stay safe at home and at school.

Created by: Kristi A. Jordan, OTR